On April 24 2015, Access Bank staff visited the Nyamata Memorial Center on the 21st genocide against the Tusti commemoration. This was also an occasion to contribute to the country's sustained economic growth by donating cows to five vulnerable survivors.

Access Bank's staff lead by its Managing Director Jean Claude Karayenzi, started the commemoration with a visit and tour of the Nyamata memorial center located in the Eastern province, after which they placed wreaths at the mass graves.

After paying tributes to the genocide survivors, five genocide survivors were given a donation of five cows, as a mean of helping them improve their lifestyle.
